PROLOGUE

We the members of Mansfield
State College community realize that this is America's Bicentennial. We further realize that we must set and obtain goals for the America of tomorrow.
That is why we all come together here at M.S.C., to learn enough to be able to meet the demands of tomorrow. This chronicle of events that have happened
in this Bicentennial year, will not only recognize
the greatness of yesterday,
but it will also recognize the potential of tomorrow.

Gerald R. Ford

THE WHITE HOUSE

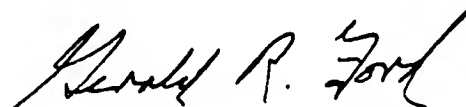

WASHINGTON

March 5, 1976

We now mark the beginning of our Third Century as an Independent Nation as well as the 200th Anniversary of the American Revolution. For two centuries our Nation has grown, changed and flourished. A diverse people, drawn from all corners of the earth, have joined together to fulfill the promise of democracy.

America's Bicentennial is rich in history and in the promise and potential of the years that lie ahead. It is about the events of our past, our achievements, our traditions, our diversity, our freedoms, our form of government and our continuing commitment to a better life for all Americans. The Bicentennial offers each of us the opportunity to join with our fellow citizens in honoring the past and preparing for the future in communities across the Nation. Thus, in joining together as races, nationalities, and individuals, we also retain and strengthen our traditions, background and personal freedom.

As we lay the cornerstone of America's Third Century, I am most happy to commend your very special part in this great national celebration.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

This Carontawan will probably be the single most important document as a reminder of your Mansfield experience. Graduates in recent years have been faced with crises from the Vietnam War to unemployment. Yet, no matter how critical the problem of the time has been, we have come to grips with the issues.

In this period of rededication to the principles upon which our country was founded, the Class of 1976 has an exciting future ahead. Now, more than ever before, college graduates will be looked upon to provide leadership; to rekindle a spirit in America that will carry us not only into the 21st century, but one that will lay the foundation for the next 200 years.

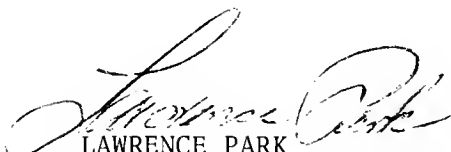

The three thematic areas for the observance of America's Bicentennial - Heritage, Festival USA, and Horizons - also hold a special significance in education.

For more than 100 of the past 200 years, Mansfield State College has been a leader in education, with a considerable impact upon the northern Pennsylvania region. Preparing personnel in the science of teaching has been, and still is, one of Mansfield's primary missions.

A more recent emphases in the arts reflects the College's service to the region and its ability to adapt to the needs of the people it serves. Our country is diverse historically and culturally. Mansfield State College, too, has become diverse in its programs in the arts, in education, in athletics, and parallels the festival aspect of the Bicentennial.

The trend in education, which included innovative courses and programs, mirror the College's designation as an "experimenting college." In the context of the Bicentennial, Horizons '76 is asking Americans to commemorate their past by looking to the future. This is where you, the Class of 1976, play a major role.

How well we cope with the challenge facing us will be a true measure of the Mansfield experience. Our expectation is that the education you have begun here will help you to face these challenges to improve the quality of life, citizenship and the development of community for the good of all of us.

SPECIAL EVENTS

Homecoming Weekend

Homecoming Queen Joyce McCracken

Homecoming Weekend for 1975 was terrific. It all started with the big parade with floats, bands, queens, etc. Then we had the big game against Cheyney State and the crowning of the Homecoming Queen, Joyce McCracken. We had the big band day presentation with 17 bands and our Mountie band playing a Bicentennial Salute. Our Mountaineers won the football game, which was followed by a big dance at night. To end the weekend right, the Broadway hit "Grease" was staged in Straughn Auditorium on Sunday Night.

Artful Dodger Concert

Tobacco Road

The Mansfield State College, College Players presented, "Tobacco Road", a play adapted by Jack Kirkland from Erskine Caldwell's novel. The play was staged in Allen Hall Theater from October 21 until October 25. "Tobacco Road" is a play which depicts the life of a sharecropper, his family, and friends who live in poverty in Georgia during the 1920's.

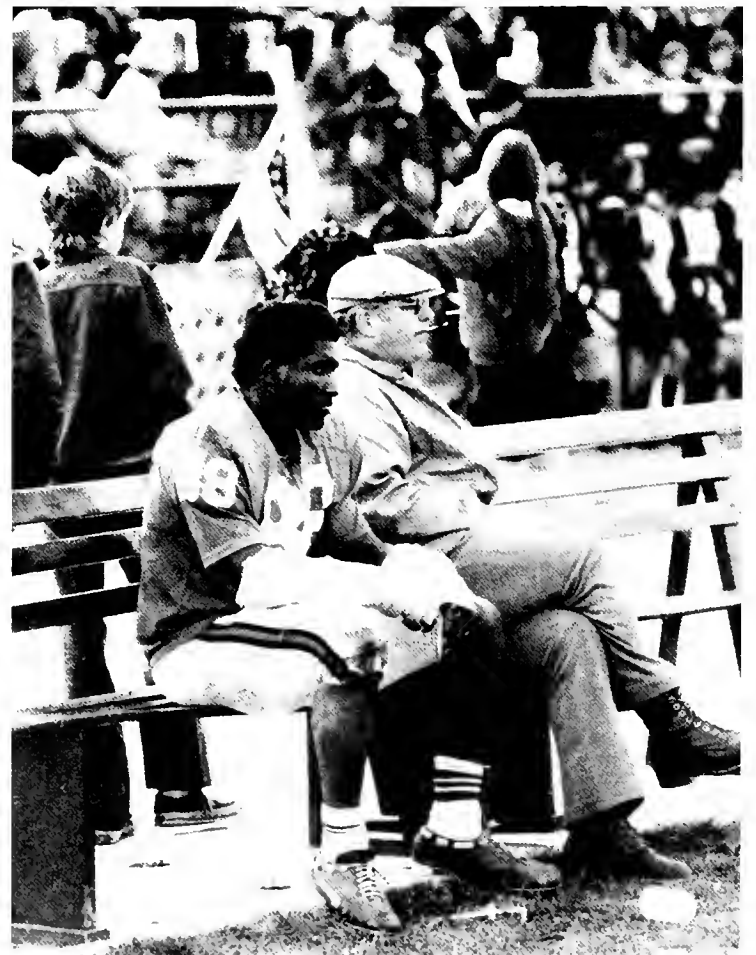

Parent's Weekend

Parent's Weekend took place during the weekend of Oct 24, 25 and 26. The parents were invited to a reception in Laurel Lobby which was followed by meetings with the individual departments. A luncheon was given, which was the only rest time for the parents. The football game followed at 1:00 P.M. which was immediately followed by a VICTORY celebration. In the evening the college players presented "Tobacco Road" for the parent's enjoyment. We also had a concert given by the Warren Covington Orchestra.

Halloween Weekend

The Contrast

The play, "The Contrast", was presented by the M.S.C. College Players in Allen Hall, December 9-13, 1975. "The Contrast", written by Royall Tyler, is the first known comedy to be written in America. The play was written to show the 'contrast' between homey American life and sophisticated English life during the American Revolutionary Period.

"George M"

The musical, "George M", was presented by the Theatre and Music Departments on March 18, 19, and 20 in Straughn Auditorium. The play was under the direction of Mr. Eric Poppick, music by Mr. Jack Wilcox, and scenery by Mr. Charlie Flaks. A most enjoyable presentation, the play depicts the life of the great George M. Cohan, played by Richard O'Donnell, and the interaction between George, his family, wife, friends, and his showbusiness. "George M" was a real Bicentennial remembrance.

Vincent Price

The famous actor, Vincent Price, spoke to a capacity audience in Steadman Theatre on March 8th. Mr. Price told the audience all about his life on the stage and in movies, which was followed by a question and answer session.

Geoffrey Holder

The multi-talented Geoffrey Holder appeared in Straugh Auditorium, February 29 to entertain an captive audience. Mr. Holder wrote and produced the Broadway hit "The Wiz", and during his performance showed his dancing style and answered questions about his life. Mr Holder is more commonly known as the "Un-Cola Man" of commercial fame.

Nikki
Giovanni

During Black Awareness Week, April 8-15, we were honored to have two distinguished black speakers come to MSC to speak. They were Julian Bond and Nikki Giovanni. Mr. Bond, Georgia State Senator, spoke on the problems in our modern government and on the up and coming presidential elections. Miss Giovanni, the Princess of Black Poetry, read some of her poetry.

I love it.

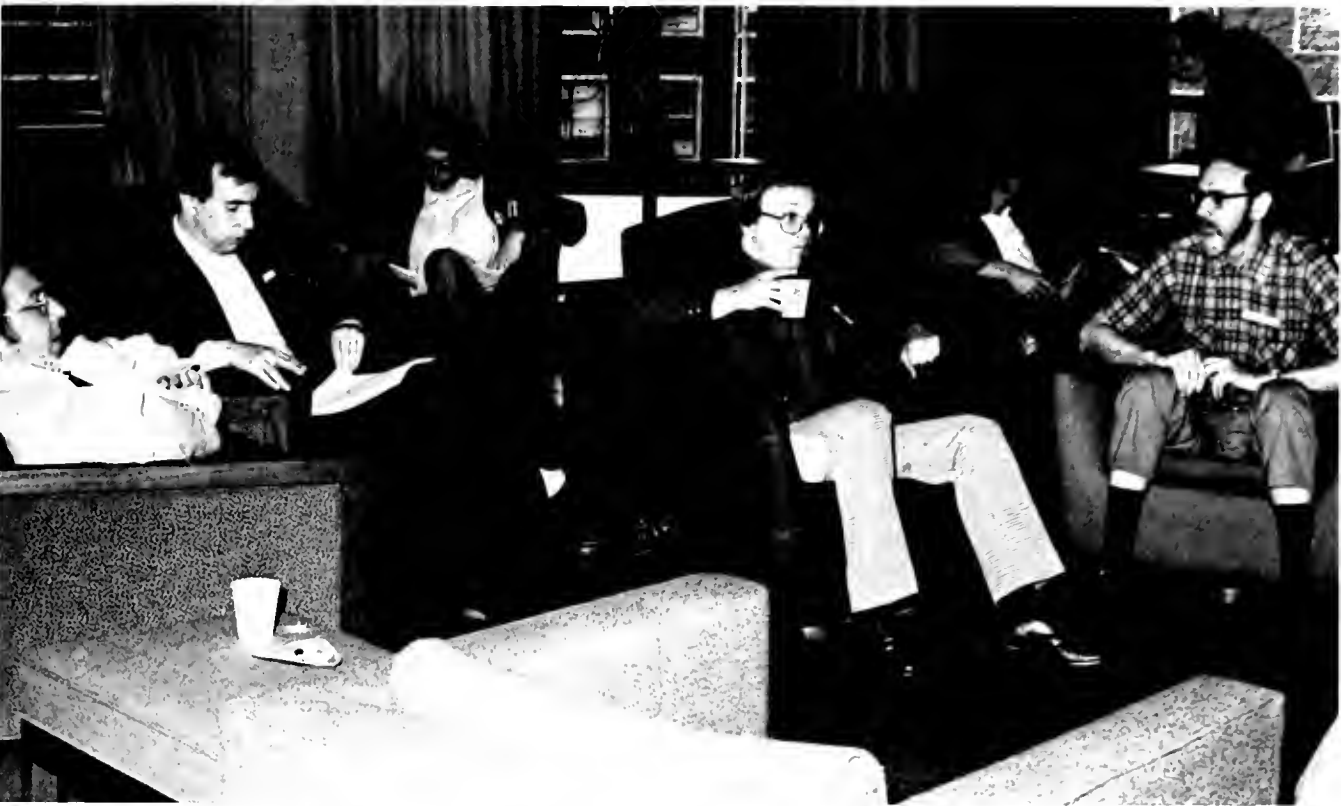

DZ Cheerleaders

The traditional game between the DZ Dribblers and the Over the Hill, Under the Weather Gang was once again staged in Decker Gym. The regular comedy of the event was present, with the addition of two new players of the Gang, Ted Chase and Chuck Lamb. The DZ Dribblers managed to win the game and make another nice donation to the beneficiary of the game, Camp Daddy Allen.

Epilogue

As the Bicentennial Year comes to a close, so does this chronicle of events for Mansfield State College. One thing is certain, though, even as this year comes to an end, life at Mansfield goes on. Also, the spirit that has developed over the years which continues to make our students proud of their school, will help them to be prepared for the world of today.
